Letter from the editor

With this issue we return to our regular format of 3-4 relatively short papers on diverse topics. A future issue, however, will focus on a single topic, the typology of the dative in African languages from three important scholars in the field. Because of our new, fully digital format we are less strict on length and authors are encouraged to include their data when submitting a manuscript.

Thanks to our reviewers (in alphabetical order), all of whom have responded positively to referee requests. It is only with their careful and critical reviews that Studies in African Linguistics can continue to uphold its high standards.

Colleen Ahland  Ben Elugbe  Vincenzo Moscati
Bachir Attouman  James Essegbey  Ngessimo M. Mutaka
Rose Aziza  Nick Faroelas  Olanike Ola Orie
Karim Bensoukas  Catherine Grienenow-Mewis  Jonathan Owens
Lee Bickmore  Anne-Christie Hellenthal  Mary Paster
Adams Bodomo  Bergit Hellwig  Cédric Patin
Mike Cahill  Ken Hiraiwa  Mary Pearce
Robert Carlson  Fusheini Hudu  Nicolas Quint
Rod Casali  Phil Jaggar  Sharon Rose
Bruce Connell  Mary Esther Kropp-Dakubu  Kofi Saah
Denis Creissels  Mena Lafkioui  Anne Schwarz
Katherine Demuth  Zelealem Leyew  John Victor Singler
Gerrit Dimmendaal  Victor Manfredi  Mauro Tosco
Mark Dingemans  Zelealem Leyew  Mark Van de Velde
Klaudia Dombrowsky-Hahn  Amina Mettouchi  Valentin Vydrine
Chris Ehret