PREFACE

We present to you the proceedings of the Special Session of the 25th Annual Meeting of the Berkeley Linguistics Society. The topic was Caucasian, Dravidian, and Turkic Linguistics, and the conference was held on February 12th, 1999. We would like to thank all the past BLS conference organizers for their helpful advice, and we would also like to thank our co-organizers: Steve Chang, Lily Liaw, and Josef Ruppenhoffer. We would also be remiss if we neglected to thank all of the volunteers who made sure the conference was a success. Finally, we would like to thank the Berkeley Linguistics Department for its administrative assistance. We hope you enjoy the volume.
